

December 18, 2013

Press Release

LightingEurope Welcomes Samsung as Newest Member

LightingEurope today announced that Samsung Semiconductor Europe, a leading LED solution provider has joined as the newest member.

Samsung Semiconductor Europe, as a wholly owned subsidiary of Samsung Electronics, represents Samsung's activities involving component business in Europe. Samsung Electronics has been bringing cutting-edge LED lighting solutions including LED packages, LED display modules and LED light engines to the market.

Through the membership, Samsung aims to actively contribute to shaping the vision of the lighting industry, and to deliver highest-quality products to LED market in Europe.

Dietmar Zembrot, President of LightingEurope stated, "We very pleased to welcome Samsung Semiconductor Europe to LightingEurope, and we look forward to their involvement and to creating an ever stronger industry association."

Samsung will continue to develop and provide the most advanced LED solutions with high performance and energy efficiency for LED displays and lighting applications, while harnessing its decades of know-how in semiconductor technology and manufacturing excellence. LightingEurope is an industry association representing 33 leading European lighting manufacturers, national lighting associations, and companies producing materials. LightingEurope members employ over 100,000 people in Europe and represent an annual turnover estimated to exceed 20 billion euros. LightingEurope is dedicated to promoting efficient lighting practices for the benefit of the global environment, human comfort, and the health and safety of consumers.

For further information please contact:

Anne Vick, Communications Director, LightingEurope, +32 (0)4 797-65-323, anne.vick@lightingeuropa.org